The amendment to the bid solicitation is to address the enquiries received:

Response(s) (R) to Question(s) (Q):

Q1: I have (1) follow up question to the amendment posted this morning. Regarding Q/A #3. Per the attached SA laptop table specs, swivel and/or height adjustable are not requirements under the SA which would make this product an NSA product. We kindly ask that this either be per the SA - fixed, or moved into the NSA section if swivel and/or height adjustable are required. The only mention of swivel in the SA specs relates to: Casters on pedestals, keyboard supports, CPU supports, Monitor arms, and lounge chairs.

R1: We will need this moved to the NSA section then. It is a bit confusing using the GC Typical for the GoCUID codes, as on there it notes the height adjustable and swivel tops is an option part of the SA. Correction has been made in Annex A below.

Q2: Item #3 now says counter height using GoCUID code but the description says standard height. Which is correct?

R2: Correction has been made in Annex A below.

Q3: The GoCUID code for item #11 does not have a privacy screen but one is called out in the description. Is one required?

R3: Yes a privacy screen is required on the backs of booth seats

The bid solicitation is amended as follows:

ANNEX A
