Description of Work:

The Financial Management Transformation (FMT) sector of the Treasury Board of Canada Secretariat (TBS) needs to understand the development and sustainment costs of existing enterprise resource planning (ERP) systems across the public service as well as the costs of anticipated new ERP systems. These ERPs enable various key corporate functions such as financial management, procurement, asset and inventory management, and many other services.

In support of FMT’s work to implement next-generation ERP systems across all departments and agencies, a cost model is being developed to estimate both the enterprise cost of this transformation as well as to approximate the implementation cost for each department or agency. Departments and agencies will be asked to populate a template with relevant inputs in support of the cost model’s development.

Bidders must submit a bid for the identified resource category.

The services were previously provided by Technomics Inc. under contract No. 24062-22-137 for a contract value estimated at $39,750.00 (tax included) for the period from November 2021 to March 2022.
